Call Time Script & Caller Card

Matt Grant for Congress — Missouri's 2nd District

Call Time Script & Caller Card

Finance call time is the candidate's single highest-value activity. This is the script and the per-prospect card that make each hour productive. The candidate makes these calls — they cannot be delegated.

The Five-Part Ask

- 1. Connect — "Hi [NAME], it's Matt Grant. Did I catch you at an okay time?"
- 2. Why I'm running — one or two sentences, the core message.
- 3. Why I'm calling you specifically — the personal connection.
- 4. The specific ask — name a number.
- 5. The close — confirm logistics, say thank you.

Script

"Hi [NAME], it's Matt Grant — how are you? ... I won't keep you long.

As you may have heard, I'm running for Congress here in [DISTRICT]. I'm a teacher and a small-business owner, and I'm running to lower the cost of living, fund our schools, and protect Social Security and Medicare.

I'm calling you personally because [SHARED CONNECTION / why they'll care]. To run a serious campaign, I need to raise [GOAL] by [DATE] — and I'm hoping I can count on you for $3,300, the maximum for the primary.

(Silence. Let them answer.)

If yes: "Thank you — that genuinely means a lot. The easiest way is [LINK/method]. Can I send that over right now while we're on the phone?"

If hesitant: "I completely understand. Would [$1,000 / $500] work for you today?"

If no/later: "No problem at all. Can I follow up with you on [DATE]? ... Thank you for taking my call."

Call Time Rules

- Pre-rate the list: capacity × inclination. Call best prospects first.
- Ask for a specific number, then stop talking.
- Always offer to take it now (link/text while on the call).
- Log immediately. A pledge is not money until it clears.
- Protect the hours — 2–3 hours/day, scheduled, no exceptions.

Educational information, not legal or financial advice. Confirm donor eligibility and current FEC limits (individual: $3,300 per election for the 2025–2026 cycle) before accepting funds. Never accept prohibited or excessive contributions; never collect SSNs or bank credentials over the phone.
