Get-Out-the-Vote (GOTV) Plan

Matt Grant for Congress — Missouri's 2nd District

Get-Out-the-Vote (GOTV) Plan

GOTV is the final-stretch operation that converts identified supporters into cast ballots. Persuasion is over; this is pure turnout. The plan below covers the last [4] days plus early/absentee voting.

Principle

You do not persuade during GOTV. You only turn out voters you have already identified as supporters. Every contact is a reminder, a plan, and a removal of friction.

The Universe

Tier	Who	Priority
1	IDed supporters who vote irregularly	Highest — the whole ballgame
2	IDed supporters who vote occasionally	High
3	Strong leans not yet confirmed	Medium
(Exclude)	Opponents and reliable opposition	Never contact

Channels & Cadence (final 96 hours)

When	Channel	Message
GOTV – 4 days	Mail / door hanger	"Your polling place + hours"
GOTV – 2 days	Phone / text	"Do you have a plan to vote?"
Election Day AM	Text / call	"Polls are open — here's your location"
Election Day midday	Door knock (Tier 1)	Ride/relief offer, friction removal
Election Day PM	Call (not-yet-voted)	"Polls close at [TIME] — go now"

The Vote Plan (ask every contact)

1. When will you vote?
2. What time of day?
3. How will you get there?

4. Where is your polling place? (Tell them.)

People who make a specific plan are dramatically more likely to follow through.

Early & Absentee

- Track who has already voted and remove them from the list immediately to avoid wasting contacts.
- Chase outstanding absentee ballots: "Have you mailed it? Need help returning it?"

Staffing the Final Push

Poll greeters	[#] sites × [#] people

Driver / ride coordination	[#]

Election Day Command

- Staging location + check-in open by [TIME].
- Packets prepped the night before.
- Hourly turnout check-ins; reassign turf to where supporters haven't voted.
- Know the rules for poll observers and voter assistance in your jurisdiction.

Educational information only. Voter-assistance, electioneering-distance, and poll-observer rules vary by state and locality — verify with your election authority. Never engage in voter suppression, intimidation, or misinformation about voting times or locations.
